

Mobile Chest X-Ray Clinic to be Here in Mid-April

All surrounding towns & districts being canvassed for applications

Arrangements are now completed for the Mobile Chest X-Ray Unit to visit Vulcan the week commencing April 15th. This was arranged and disclosed at a meeting of the Vulcan Lions Club held in the Dobbs Hotel dining room on Monday evening, March 18th, and attended by representatives from the various organizations in the town and district.

Dr. A. H. Baker, of the Central Alberta Sanatorium, was in attendance and explained in some detail how this mobile unit became available, how it is conducted and what they have accomplished to date. Miss Stewart, District Health Nurse from High River showed two films dealing with Tuberculosis. Also in attendance were Col. Knight, former Officer Commanding the 41st Brigade (Reserve) which included the local Militia Unit, Mrs. Caville, District Health Nurse at Lomond and Miss Thompson, District Health Nurse who has just recently returned from five years overseas with the Canadian Army.

Following the regular dinner meeting of the Lions Club the meeting was turned over to discussion and planning for the visit here of the Mobile X-Ray Clinic. The date found most suitable was the week commencing April 15th. The unit would be set up that day and begin operation on Tuesday, April 16th. The clinic can handle 300 persons a day and will remain here as long as it can be kept operating at capacity. It was decided to make a complete canvass of all residents of the Lomond, Armada, Queens-town, Brant, Ensign, Vulcan, Kirk-caldy, Champion, and Carmangay districts and endeavour to have as nearly as possible a 100% coverage of the people in these districts avail themselves of his free chest X-Ray.

It was decided to hold a meeting Thursday evening in the Legion Hall to arrange divisions of the district for purpose of canvassing purposes and to have this canvass completed, and application cards in the hands of the secretary by the end of the month. This would enable the notices for date and time of X-Ray to be sent to the individuals a few days in advance, and also let them know how long the unit will remain here.

A great deal of information was given at the meeting. Some of this follows.

The Alberta Department of Health provides free examination and treatment of Tuberculosis. To supplement this and to bring examination to the people the Alberta Tuberculosis Association was organized and stages a Christmas seal sale each year. Last year $80,000 was raised in this manner. From these proceeds two mobile X-ray units were purchased. These are operated by the Dept. of Health.

170,000 persons have been examined since the first unit started operating in September 1943. Of this number 363 were active spreading cases of Lung Tuberculosis, and 1877 had the inactive type.

Tuberculosis does not disclose itself until the advanced stages. No person can tell by how they feel or by appearances whether or not they have Tuberculosis. It can only be discovered in its early stages by X-ray. In its early stages a complete cure is quite simple and quick. When it reaches an advanced stage, a cure is very slow and the person may never be employable again. $500,000 are spent annually in the province on treatment. The mobile unit affords an opportunity of discovering it in the early stages and this lessens the cost of treatment and, it is hoped, may eventually eliminate the disease entirely as far as the advanced stages go.

The highest death rate is in the highest age groups. About ten minutes are all that is required to make out the cards and have the X-ray taken. It will NOT be necessary to bare the chest and persons of all ages are eligible.

It is found that there are about two active spreading cases per thousand and among those examined several times that many with inactive cases. If any abnormality is

Alta. Increase Car Accidents

(From A.M.A. News of Week)

Motor accidents on streets and highways in the province took the lives of 73 persons in 1945, according to official figures which the Alberta Motor Association has received from the provincial secretary's department.

The alarming side of this report is that the number of fatalities was an increase of 22 over the previous year. Officials regard this as a fresh call for safety programs to be initiated in the province and rigorous steps being taken to check careless and reckless drivers.

The number of fatal accidents includes six persons killed at level crossings. This is a slight reduction from the previous year.

Accidents in the cities in the province resulted in deaths to 24 persons, a number of whom died from injuries.

The report says it is noticeable that the number of accidents increased soon after the restrictions on gasoline rationing and the federal regulations governing the rate of speed on highways were lifted last August. Neglect of drivers in exercising practical precautions to offset winter hazards also was partly responsible.

Generally speaking, fatal accidents resulted from excessive speed, careless and negligent driving, level crossings, skidding on wet, icy and slippery roads.

Take Pride In Alberta

Currently appearing in weekly and daily newspapers is a series of advertisements sponsored by the Calgary Brewing and Malting Company. The advertisements are titled "Take Pride in Alberta" and out in both picture and written form the achievements and future possibilities of our province.

Far pastures look green when we fail to notice the luscious growth right under our feet. We become so accustomed to our own advantages that we fail to realize just how well off we are until our good fortune is pointed out to us. These well written, well planned, and timely advertisements should bring to all Albertans a new appreciation of their province as well as selling Alberta to many new settler citizens.

The same company is also sponsoring a series of radio broadcasts by Capt. J. Harper Prowse, Army representative in the provincial legislature and newspaperman who has, through his untiring efforts, become the No. 1 spokesman for returned men in this province. His weekly broadcasts may be heard Sundays from CFAC, Calgary, at 9:45 p.m. or from CFRN Edmonton, Thursdays at 8:15 p.m.

GRAVESIDE SERENADE

James Gregg, 77 year old Scot of Bremerton, Washington, who always serenaded the United States of American on the fourth of July, died recently but not without providing for his own graveside serenade.

His will asked that six killed Scots—four bagpipers and two drummers—act as pallbearers and play native tunes for the burial service. It provided that each be paid $100 at the conclusion of the ceremony.

Gregg went to Washington 35 years ago and did not miss a year in his serenade to America.

THREE COUPONS VALID IN APRIL

Three of new combined sugar-preserved coupons will become valid during April—$5 on April 4 and $6 and $7 on April 18, the prices board announced recently.

The announcement said this was not extra sugar but part of the yearly plan for sugar distribution. However, it added that validation of three coupons would give some relief during the current butter shortage by allowing consumers to buy additional preserves as spreads in place of butter.

found the person is notified and asked to take further examination. Further details will be appearing in succeeding issues.

UNDERPAID SCIENTIFIC MEN

The scientific agriculturists in the employ of the federal government in particular, are on the whole, poorly paid. This was brought out by Rupert Ramsay of Saskatoon who mentioned that A. W. Platt of the Swift Current experimental farm who developed Rescue, the new sawfly resistant wheat, is paid $1,800 a year by the federal department of agriculture. He is a university graduate, married and with four children. He recently turned down an offer of $5,000 a year from Kansas State University, to stay with his job in Swift Current.

Scientific agriculturists have rendered a tremendous service to the farmers of Western Canada and one which cannot be measured in dollars and cents. The development of Marquis wheat alone has been worth hundreds of millions of dollars to Western Canada. Then many other achievements have been made in the development of earlier ripening grain varieties, rust resistant wheat, and so on. These men are probably the worst paid in Canada, particularly when the value of their services is considered.—Wheat Pool Budget.

AUSTERITY FOR US

Trade Minister James MacKinnon, back from a tour of South America, suggests that if Canada hopes to get a foothold in the world's trade markets she had better prepare to pay for it with a bit of self-denial, says The Ottawa Journal.

That seems fairly obvious. The world at this stage is not waiting for Canadian goods; it is waiting for goods. Accordingly, if we set out with the smug plan of filling all our own needs first, other countries smart enough to do without things until they get their export trade going will almost surely get our market.

That should tell us the need of being up and doing about exports, about markets—tell us in fact that no matter what it costs us now we must have such markets.—Cowichan Leader.

MORE SUSPECTS

The Royal Commission investigating the spy ring has found that one of the key men of the espionage ring is said to be a high official of the Labor-Progressive party. Others linked with the investigation are Dr. Raymond Boyer, professor of chemistry at McGill, engaged in secret research; Harold Gerson an employee of a crown company explosive plant; S/L Matt Nightingale, R.C.A.F. working in land communications; Dr. Shugar, a Pole, engaged with a Toronto radar company.

Red Cross Needs All Help

The annual Red Cross campaign opened on March 11, and there is every hope that the generous contributions of the past will be continued.

The Red Cross needs your help—more than ever. This year the Red Cross must extend its peace-time services to thousands of needy and unfortunate persons in our province. A new Red Cross children's hospital must be built to accommodate the hundreds of suffering, crippled children from all parts of Alberta. Emergency medical aid stations must be provided in isolated rural districts. Civilian blood banks must be established so that blood transfusions can be freely available to all those who require this life-saving service. And only YOU can help in this great work. YOUR contribution to the Red Cross campaign now being conducted in Alberta, is needed—more than ever! Please send it in—Now!

The district has been zoned so that everyone will be canvassed for membership in the Red Cross. This canvass is now underway in both town and district under the directorship of R.M. Patriquin. Be ready when the canvasser calls.

Obituary

George Elmer Drummond

Residents of Vulcan, Reid Hill and Alton districts were shocked and saddened Monday to learn of the sudden death of George Elmer Drummond, earlier that morning in the local hospital. Although he had not been in the best of health for the past few months he pursued his usual routine and had never been confined to his home, or hospital. He was stricken late Sunday afternoon and passed away before morning.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Drummond, well-known pioneers of the Alton district, Mr. Drummond was born in Mitchell, Ont. 54 years ago. He came west with his family around 1906, and later homesteaded in the Lake McGregor district. He continued to farm there until his retirement two years ago, with the exception of a couple of years that the family lived at the coast.

He was married in 1917 to Miss Opal Bowie. The couple have a large circle of friends, who will join in extending sympathy to Mrs. Drummond and her son.

Left to mourn him are his wife and son, Burnell and brother, Kinard all of Vulcan and a brother, Harvey at Vancouver, B.C. His only daughter, Marjorie, predeceased him several years ago. Funeral services were held from the United church, Wednesday at 2:30, with burial in the Vulcan cemetery.

Pall-bearers were: W. Greenlee, D. Greenlee, K. Fitzpatrick, A. Fitzpatrick, P. McIntyre & L. Marshall.

The overcrowded church and the abundance of flowers showed the high esteem in which he was held.

Anglo-Saxon Race Theories

Generalissimo Stalin has interpreted Winston Churchill's widely quoted speech as an attempt "to sow disunity between countries and hampering further co-operation."

He said in an interview: "Mr. Churchill and his friends in England and U.S.A. are submitting to the nations who do not speak the English language a sort of ultimatum which is 'You recognize our superiority and everything will be all right. Otherwise war is inevitable'."

"Hitler began the causes of war by introducing race theories in which he declared that only people who speak the German language are peoples of pure race. Mr. Churchill also begins incitement for war with the race theory, giving privileges to the races who speak the English language and who have the right to decide the fate of the whole world."

"The German race theory made Hitler and his friends think that they were the only race who have the right to rule other nations. The English race theory which is expressed by Mr. Churchill and his friends say that the nations which speak the English language must rule over the rest of the world."

Commenting on this The Morning Albertan says: "Stalin is definitely unfair when he says our racism of Mr. Churchill's is the same as Hitler's. British and Americans do not consider themselves physically or mentally superior to other races. Nor do they on the whole expect to rule the world. But what we do have, and usually fail to recognize, is a thorough conviction of racial moral superiority."

"From the formulation of the Atlantic Charter to the present, every diplomatic move leading to the Russian crisis has been marked by the determination of the English-speaking nations that the post-war world shall be ruled according to rules and principles that we consider are morally right."

"If the entire world agrees with us as to what is right this is an admirable code. It can also be an admirable code if some of the world does not agree with us, and we are prepared to take the consequences of our determination."

"But when we forge blithely ahead blindly ignoring the fact that any considerable body of people might under any circumstances disagree with our moral convictions, it gives Stalin a chance to say what he did."

"Until we recognize that great differences may exist and do exist between two cherished codes of political and international morality we cannot even begin to settle differences between the nations that hold them."

A Grave Injustice To Our Farmers

(By H. G. L. Strange, Searl Grain Company Ltd.)

One serious defect of the State control of products and of State marketing is that no Government can ever set a price satisfactory to producer and consumer. Politics always enter into the picture. The Government, therefore, being political attempts to be "all things to all men" and in the end succeeds in benefiting some, while inflicting grave injuries on others. We have today, for instance, four different Government prices for the same product wheat, i.e. 77 3/8 cents for the making of bread for Canadian people, the equivalent of $1.00 to farmers who buy wheat to feed to livestock, $1.25 to the wheat producer, and a maximum of $1.55 for export sales. The open market price for wheat, as Registered at Chicago, is $2.01 in Canadian money. So grave injustices are done to our farmers. If wheat has to be sold to Europe at $1.55, a cheap price, and no doubt quite proper considering Europe's difficulties, why should our farmers alone have to pay the entire subsidy? Why should not farmers receive the open market price of $2.00 a bushel, and the difference between that and $1.55 to be paid for by all the taxpayers of Canada, and not only by our prairie farmers? Why should wheat growers alone subsidize cheap bread for all Canada and cheap wheat for the whole world?

Pertinent Topics

Discussed by H. C.

We in Canada and the United States think we are being generous because of our loans to Britain. From now on we shall learn if we care to, by our annual naval expenditures how much money we had been saved for two centuries because Britain guarded our coasts and sea-lanes. If to our generosity and self-interest we now add gratitude for past favors, we shall call our contributions not loans or gifts but partial payments of honorable obligations, and shall remain debtors instead of becoming creditors.

Let some one else try his hand at reconciling the presence of a Russian observer in Operation Muskox with the fact that Operation Spy was known last September to the authorities at Ottawa.

Stalin says that Churchill talks like Hitler, and it would be well if he now falls for Churchill talk as readily as he once did for Hitler's.

He also calls him a war-monger which is exactly what Hitler called Churchill in 1939 when warning the world as he does now against war and war-mongers.

It has been said that nothing has happened since Shakespeare's time that escaped the notice of that myriad-minded man. Even the plucked eye-brows of this Hollywood period are noted in this passage:

Your brows are blacker; yet black brows, they say, become some women best, so that there be not too much hair there, but in a semi-circle Or a half-moon made with a pen.

These were the eye-brows of a mistress. He says nothing about painted finger-nails, but perhaps she was above such barbarity.

Stalin's conception of democracy is indicated by his recognition of Churchill and his non-recognition of the Atlee government. To him democracy is a word useful only in confusing democracies.

Short time ago, I guessed that no U.S. pensioner of the war of 1812 was alive but that guess was wrong. The last one died last week in Oregon. There were seventy-seven alive in 1914 as the Canadian parliament discovered when it was revising pensions. It is accounted for by the marriage of young girls to aged veterans.

If a Communist M.P. is prosecuted for giving away information received at a secret session of parliament, the wrong man will be in the dock. Any man, outside of Russia, who would disclose a secret in the presence of one Communist should be placed in custody at once, charged with violation of the Official Secrets Act.

We are told that if we understood Russia contention would disappear. Well, let's try. We have to understand that while it was all right for Britain and the United States to combine in helping Russia on the veto question it is not all right for them to combine in protesting against Russian violation of agreements with respect to withdrawal of allied troops from Iran and Manchuria. That way lies hostility, to the Soviets.

It is all right for Britain to make a bargain with Russia, as she did, but to side with the United States on any point upon which Russia disagrees that spells doom to the United Nations. No disagreements can occur if it is distinctly understood that either country can side with Russia, but both cannot oppose her without sabotaging the U.N.O. Now if all are agreed upon the necessity for a clear understanding we are all set for the next meeting of the Security Council.

There are a few other things to be clarified before complete understanding is reached. It must be accepted that citizens of Iran or Manchuria who resist Russian penetration are reactionaries who are striving to prevent Russia from establishing democratic institutions in those countries. It must also be understood that while Russia has already annexed twelve countries covering 275,000 square miles, containing 24,000,000 people, it is only Britain that is imperialist. To the communists the word itself is anathema.

TOO MUCH OVERHEAD

There are tens of thousands of government employees across Canada who are no longer needed, Senator C. C. Ballantyne declared last week, adding that "one could close his eyes" and dispense with the services of 50% of those workers for the government and they would never be missed."

Such a rough and ready demobilization of the war swollen civil service would probably not be the best method but Senator Ballantyne brings to the public attention a pruning job that should not be delayed.

Before the war there were 44,000 people working for the Dominion Government and the annual payroll amounted to $88 millions. This year those figures had risen to 150,000 people and $229 millions. That outlay is approximately half our pre-war budget, an utterly fantastic load for a country of only 12 millions to carry. Assuming that the average civil servant supports two dependents this means that, exclusive of the armed services, every 25th worker is on the Dominion Government payroll.—Financial Post.

Christmas Seals Fight Tuberculosis

In over 200,000 X-Ray examinations conducted in Alberta, about 400 active cases have been found. Many of these have now completed the cure and are back at work. Many have been helped back into jobs by the T.B. Associations' Rehabilitation Program. Full treatment is FREE as Alberta is one of the two provinces in Canada that assumes this expense.

HERE ARE THREE GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD HAVE A CHEST X-RAY AT THE EARLIEST OPPORTUNITY

1. If it shows you have a healthy chest, that is good news.
2. If it shows you have already fought a round with T.B. germs and won, that is good news.
3. If it shows you have T.B. in early symptomless stage, that is good news, too, because when T.B. is found early the chances for complete recovery are excellent, provided treatments start at once.

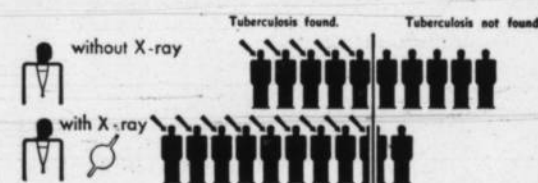

Provincial Government Wages Successful War on Mankind's Oldest Scourge

"The battle against Tuberculosis is not only a doctor's affair; it belongs to the entire public." — Sir William Osler

Recognizing this, the Government in co-operation with the Alberta Tuberculosis Associations has enlisted the people of the province in the fight. With the result: Tuberculosis is fighting a losing battle in Alberta. True, it is still a stealthy, insidious killer, but death rates are sharply declining, and victory is in sight. Now, with the knowledge we have and the weapons at our command, this disease which has claimed more lives than all the wars in history, can and will be conquered within a generation.

X-Ray Helps to Detect Tuberculosis

Early discovery means early recovery, and the X-RAY reveals the disease in the earliest stages.

MOBILE UNITS EXAMINE CITIZENS IN ALL PARTS OF THE PROVINCE
About 2 in every thousand people will have active T.B. without knowing it. These people are the "missing casualties" and the unconscious spreaders of the disease. Two Mobile Chest X-Ray units, bought by Alberta Tuberculosis Associations with Christmas seal funds, and operated by the Alberta Government Department of Health, travel constantly throughout the province to bring free diagnosis to the people. Even the most remote areas are covered by a unit equipped with its own portable generators for power supply. Thus, with the active support of the public we can see VICTORY in our time over T.B.

A most charming and successful tea and apron sale was under auspices of No. 2 group of the United church Ladies Aid on Saturday afternoon. The Sunday school room was very attractively decorated with St. Patrick's Day colors of green and white, and a profusion of shamrocks. Clever "pigs" made of potatoes and atop the piano caused considerable comment. Gay bouquets of daffodils centred each tea table, while the members provided an abundant and delicious lunch. The aprons sold well and were of many designs and patterns. Mrs. J. L. Wright was official hostess.

An Association, namely "The Vulcan Ladies Community Society" has been incorporated by Mr. Maber under the Society Act of the Province. Red Cross Needs Still Great

At the annual meeting of the Alberta Division of the Red Cross, Dr. Routley, national commissioner, proposed that the Alberta division raise $900,000 a year to expand all phases of the work in the province. He said there were great services to be rendered in safeguarding national health, and he mentioned hospitals planned for outpost points.

Peacetime activities, he said, included setup up of a civilian blood donor service across the Dominion. Col. Tomlinson, provincial commissioner, spoke of further plans for the Junior Red Cross hospital with operating rooms, gymnasium, physiotherapy wards and so on.

International activities and war have overshadowed the good work being carried on at home. There were tremendous undertakings. But there are also casualties of peace. There are crippled children free blood banks, nurses, medical aid and hospitals for isolated areas, emergency calls in case of disaster or epidemic.

The Red Cross, in the name of the unfortunate, asks generous support for its work in peacetime as well as in war.

Confusion of Income Tax Act

(Financial Post)

Before the senate tax inquiry, the Deputy Minister of National Revenue asserted that in one year assessments of income tax were increased by $38 millions over the original amounts declared by taxpayers. If proof were needed of the utter jumble of our present taxation regulations, we have it here.

In most of the corporation returns involved, cases were handled by competent auditors and accountants and the same applies to a great many of the personal returns as well. Yet by the very admission of the Deputy Minister himself we must assume that not even competent auditors, let alone the average citizen, can understand the present act.

S. S. Thorvaldson, head of the Income Taxpayer Association, was on solid ground when he told a Toronto audience recently that:

"Our tax laws are so complicated so unreadable and so un-understandable that they are most difficult if not impossible to construe. The deputy minister for taxation which in practice includes inspectors, assessors, minor clerks and other officials; large and small, important ones and unimportant ones, are loathed with such arbitrary discretionary powers and authority that in many cases the taxes that you and I are called upon to pay, are subject largely to the whim and caprice of officials instead of being determined or determinable by laws which can, if necessary, be construed by the courts."

The Income Tax Act started off simple enough in 1917. There were few discretionary powers and those only exercisable by the minister himself, who is an elected official. But the tax and the act have grown mightily since 1917 and so have the number of discretions and the officials who can exercise them.

The result today is an act nobody understands and a tax few can compute. This crazy situation calls for immediate and drastic correction.

AUTO INSURANCE BILL

The C.C.F. government's contentious bill for inauguration of compulsory automobile accident insurance was given second reading in the Saskatchewan legislature Tuesday after a major debate and defeat of a Liberal opposition move to give the measure a six-months' hoist.

Alberta government has been challenged to reveal how much money it had made by purchasing bonds for investment at depressed prices.

Australia is not expected to have any great wheat surplus to export to Europe in 1946.

"Boy - am I glad I saw my Bank Manager!"

"Betty and I were worried... we were urged to invest our savings, including my service gratuities, in what we thought might be a good business proposition. My bank manager showed me why it wasn't so good... maybe saved us from losing all we have!"

If you are an ex-serviceman, getting re-established in civilian life you will find your local Bank Manager a useful man to consult.

He is familiar with local business conditions and opportunities; he is glad to give helpful information to any veteran who comes to see him.

He knows the hopes and fears, joys and worries of small business men, wage-earners and salaried workers, because he has been talking to them over many years—considering their problems, lending them money, rendering them service in many ways. He'll be glad to do the same for you.

Why not talk to him at the first opportunity? Veterans all over Canada are saying: "Boy—am I glad I saw my Bank Manager!"

THE NEED IS STILL GREAT

The work of the Red Cross is never finished. Aid must still be carried to the victims of war in many stricken countries.

But the present membership campaign in Alberta is aimed at making the Red Cross strong to help ourselves—to give treatment and care and hope to our own crippled children, to aid our veterans where necessary, to bring training in first-aid and home nursing and safety to our rural communities and to the 42,225 Junior Red Cross members in our schools, and to provide relief and comfort to victims of disaster within our province.

A strong Red Cross is possible only with a strong membership. Lend your support to this great work.
